

A power talk by Dr. Kiran Bedi

A Ramon Magsaysay awardee, social activist, and the first woman IPS Officer of India, Dr. Kiran Bedi is the epitome of Leadership and Courage.

The key positions that she assumed in her career are- Deputy Inspector General of Police in Mizoram, Advisor to the Lieutenant Governor of Chandigarh, Director General of Narcotics Control Bureau, Civilian Police Advisor in United Nations peacekeeping operations and Inspector General of Prisons, Tihar Jail.

Dr. Kiran Bedi shared her experience, knowledge and the courage what made her the woman she is today with Jain University women students at CMS Business School campus.

Early into the afternoon with opening speech given and formalities dealt with - the first woman IPS Officer from our country began speaking with pride and passion about her life and how she's always dared to live a courageous life.

The audience was enthused, as she intellectually stimulated the women students of Jain University, delivering a talk on "Women Empowerment".

Excerpts from her power talk:

- Clarity is the journey towards women empowerment
- Strategize what you want in life
- Life is about challenge. Once you are out, be ready to be on your own
- Without any personal management there cannot be any personnel management
- You must know how to distinguish between degree and education
- Knowledge is prevention
- Law is absolute essential. Know your legal rights
- Reading habit is a leadership habit
- I have come here to do good karma and you can multiply karma
- Women network is essential. We must create sisterhood