Day 1 :

Session 1: Passive Investment Strategies

The investment gurus like Benjamin Graham (father of value investing), Warren Buffett, Jack Bogle, John Templeton, and Peter Lynch advocated passive investing. The art and science of passive investing needs to be deciphered for the benefit of individual investors.

Session 2: Option Trading Strategies

The options market comprises a significant part of the derivative market, particularly in India. Option trading is more complicated than trading stock. A retail investor can leverage the benefit associated with options in terms of cost-efficiency, the potentiality to deliver higher percentage returns, etc.

Day 2 :

Session 1 : Blockchain Technology Applications in Finance

Blockchain Technology has been recognized under critical infrastructure services in the COVID 19 guidelines issued by the US. Features of Blockchain, such as decentralization, immutability, and transparency, make it appealing for business sectors and domains across the world. One such industry that is leading the way in exploring the potential of Blockchain is the banking and finance industry.

Session 2 :Investing Decisions in Turbulent Times - Understanding Behavioural Biases

Standard finance theories assume people are rational and overlook emotional and cognitive biases that individuals are prone to. Such biases affect the decision making of investors, and an understanding of these biases would enable investors to be better prepared for effective decision making.
