1. Introduction:

CESIM company provides vendor services to CMS Business School, Jain (Deemed to be University) in the area of Business simulation games software which are invaluable tools in MBA programme education. To facilitate the same, CESIM has arranged “Train The Trainer (TTT) Programme” by picking 20 senior faculty members to train them as Master Trainers. They further train the remaining faculty workforce to incorporate business simulation games into academic curriculum which ultimately benefits student community for the various benefits listed below.

2. Activity Overview: CESIM - Train the trainer (TTT) programme

Strategy Management Simulation & MICRO-Simulation

- Platform Walkthrough / Play round 1
- Result Analysis of round 1 / FAQ / Play R2, R3 & R4
- R2, R3 & R4 Result Analysis
- Introduction to concepts and Instructor interface
- Instructor interface to professors to play simulation game as teams

3. Summary and Key Learnings of the session:

CESIM company provides vendor services to CMS Business School, Jain (Deemed to be University) in the area of Business simulation games software which are invaluable tools in MBA programme education. To facilitate the same, CESIM has arranged “Train The Trainer (TTT) Programme” by picking 20 senior faculty members to train them as Master Trainers. They further train the remaining faculty workforce to incorporate business simulation games into academic curriculum which ultimately benefits student community for the various benefits listed below.

- Applied Learning: They provide hands-on, real-world experience in managing a business, allowing students to apply theoretical knowledge.
- Decision-Making Skills: These games hone decision-making skills by requiring students to make critical choices in a risk-free environment.
- Complex Problem Solving: MBA students learn to tackle complex business problems, fostering analytical thinking and creativity.
- Team Collaboration: They promote teamwork as students often work in groups, enhancing communication and leadership abilities.
- Strategic Thinking: Business simulations require strategic planning and execution, preparing students for leadership roles.

- Risk Management: Students learn to manage and mitigate risks, a crucial skill in the business world.
- Market Understanding: They deepen students' understanding of market dynamics, competition, and customer behavior.
- Financial Literacy: Participants develop financial acumen by managing budgets and analyzing financial reports.
- Adaptability: They teach adaptability as students must respond to changing market conditions and make adjustments.
- Performance Assessment: Instructors can assess students' performance objectively, offering valuable feedback for improvement.

In sum, business simulation games bridge the gap between theory and practice, equipping future business leaders with the skills and experience needed to excel in the corporate world.
