- 6. Summary and Key Learnings of the session:
1. In the Punashchetana 2024 first session on "Professional Branding of Management Educators," Mr. Karthik B, a LinkedIn Power Profile and Top Voice, shared practical tips and strategies for building a strong professional brand on LinkedIn. Attendees learned effective ways to enhance and present their profiles to stand out in their field.

2. In second session, Dr. Hemant Bhagrava, an expert in integrative medicine, emphasized how stress affects the body and mind and the importance of yoga in addressing modern lifestyle problems. He discussed the autonomic nervous system, stress, and resilience from both modern and traditional perspectives, including the emotional cortex and yogic understanding of stress. The session provided valuable insights into overcoming challenges and building resilience, particularly for faculty members to support their students. The session was both informative and interactive.
3. The session emphasized the shift from passive learning to active participation, highlighting practical tools and approaches to boost student involvement through interactive technologies and group activities. Dr. Chandrashekhara Menon stressed the importance of educators becoming facilitators who guide and inspire students, empowering them to explore and construct their own knowledge. This approach fosters critical thinking and deep engagement in learning, creating a supportive classroom environment.
4. Dr. Surya Prasad highlighted the critical importance of mental health and wellness for both academics and students, emphasizing its role in fostering holistic well-being and optimal functioning. He explained how mental health impacts cognition, behavior, and decision-making, and is essential for resilience, emotional regulation, and adaptive coping. Neglecting mental health can lead to severe consequences, including psychosomatic issues and impaired relationships.
5. Dr. Kiran R., a partner and general manager at Microsoft, delivered an engaging talk on the "Application of Artificial Intelligence in Research" at Punashchetana 2024. He highlighted how AI is revolutionizing scientific discoveries and research procedures, emphasizing the critical role of advanced technology in modern research environments.
6. Mr. Priyan Naik, with over three decades of senior-level experience, shared practical strategies and captivating stories from his tenure as Managing Director of BEML. He detailed BEML's market position and products, using real-world examples to explain strategic concepts like Porter's 5 Forces and the BCG Matrix. The audience learned how to apply these strategy tools in a corporate setting by seeing how BEML effectively used them. His insights provided valuable lessons on designing and implementing corporate strategies.
7. Dr. Ramani Bai from Madras University provided valuable insights on the 12B and 2F options, explaining their applicability and benefits for educational institutions and faculty. She highlighted various funding agencies in India, such as UGC, ICSSR, DSIR, and CSIR, detailing how to secure funds from these sources. The session covered the features and benefits of these funding options, along with the importance of collaborative research.
8. Prof. G. Ramesh's session on consulting skills at Punashchetana 2024 provided attendees with valuable insights into efficient consulting procedures. The event facilitated an active exchange of ideas and practical guidance. Participants left with renewed enthusiasm and enhanced consulting abilities.
9. Dr. Anita Prasad's session at Punashchetana 2024 focused on incorporating student diversity in the classroom through inclusive curriculum design, culturally sensitive instruction, anti-bias education, and robust support networks. Her insights provided actionable strategies for creating a welcoming learning environment.
10. Mr. Shazil, regional head of Digii Campus, provided comprehensive training on the DIGII Campus Learning Management System (LMS) during the first session on the seventh day of Punashchetana 2024.

11. Dr. Manjulika emphasized the crucial role of ethics in both general research and academic publication, focusing on research tools, human components, and participant welfare. She used video clips to sensitize attendees about research ethics and facilitated a participatory discussion among faculty and research assistants. The session included a case study, making it a highly useful and enlightening experience for all participants.
